

Coaching Coaches

I really believe in the practice of Executive Coaching. I strive to enrich the field with expert, experienced coaches who have business acumen, a belief in the power of accelerated development and the value coaching can add to client organisations.

Anna has trained, developed and accredited many successful coaches over the years:

'The knowledge, tips and encouragement that I have received from Anna have been invaluable in helping me build my business. For me, it has meant that I can take on bigger projects with bigger clients safe in the knowledge that the methods and processes I am using are proven. Gaining that vital experience on my own would have cost me a huge amount of time and money.'

Paul Matthews, M D, People Alchemy

'At the time I was setting up my business, her warm and enthusiastic approach helped me to believe I could achieve my dreams.'

Hilary Johnson, Coach, The Results Partnership

'Many thanks for all your invaluable advice about giving feedback, invoicing, fee structures and team-building ideas. Iâ€™m learning so much.'

Fiona Parashar, Founder, Leadership Coaching

'Sometimes words of appreciation donâ€™t capture what you really gave us. We can only tell you how much more confidence you have given us.'

Hilary and Helen, Founders, Point Taken

'As ever, thanks for your wisdom.'

Deborah Brockwell, Executive Coach
